IMPORTANT NOTE!

According to the vehicle manufacturer specifications, the central bolt on the crankshaft and the diamond washer (image 1) must be changed when replacing or disassembling the crankshaft vibration damper.

Note the specifications of the vehicle manufacturer!

The crankshaft vibration damper must be removed when replacing the timing belt on the vehicles listed above.

The central bolt on the crankshaft and the washer are included in the timing belt kits and timing belt sets listed above. The washer provided in these kits and sets has a special coating that works in conjunction with the central screw to prevent the vibration damper from working itself loose.
